¹The months reported figure indicates the number of months that an agency submitted data to the state program. Data users should view this with caution, because a month of data does not necessarily indicate that an agency has reported all activity for that month. Several agencies that reported 12 months of data both in 1999 and 2000 have reported either large increases or decreases in criminal activity. It should not be assumed that this is an actual change in crime; it may be a change in reporting. Users should check with the individual departments or with the state program before assuming that changes are indicative of actual trends.

¹The months reported figure indicates the number of months that an agency submitted data to the state program. Data users should view this with caution, because a month of data does not necessarily indicate that an agency has reported all activity for that month. Several agencies that reported 12 months of data both in 1999 and 2000 have reported either large increases or decreases in criminal activity. It should not be assumed that this is an actual change in crime; it may be a change in reporting. Users should check with the individual departments or with the state program before assuming that changes are indicative of actual trends.
